RELATIONS WITH THE MARKET

Our ethical and responsible attitude is manifested not only in internal relations, but it is also a standard in our relations with the market environment, including in particular customers, suppliers of goods and services, business partners, shareholders and capital market participants.